Career Resource Center

We Dedicate Our Book Because . . .

You encouraged those who were reaching for more and added hope in the minds of those who were in despair. You showed us with all the current resources and career information that there is life after High School. You prepared us to take our first step into that life . . . , an important step into the real world of adulthood, a world where we make decisions and become accountable for their outcome. You are teachers, counselors and professionals who were never too busy to answer questions, and more importantly, never too professional to relate to students on a comfortable, personal level.

Ms. Ginny McCabe
Career Counselor

A former English teacher at St. Mary's High in Cambridge, Ms. McCabe came to C.R.L.S. in September of 1971. As a permanent substitute in the English Department for her first year, Ms. McCabe "weathered" some of the most challenging classes in the history of her career. She comments, "It was during this time that I learned what education was — an honest exchange between teacher and student — a true realization that these roles interchange."

A member of the English Department for five years, Ms. McCabe taught many Senior classes. During this time she recognized the need to provide more direct services to students. Moving on to the Career Center, Ms. McCabe changed both the "name" of the Center and the focus of career planning at our high school.

Her contributions to C.R.L.S. and the Cambridge community include being a former C.T.A. Representative and Faculty Club Executive Board Member, launching the RCA Minority Exploratory Engineering Program being a Summer Coordinator for the E.M.H.R.D.A. Youth Employment Program, and serving on the Harshbarger Education Task Force.

A graduate of Emmanuel College, Ms. McCabe received her Masters' from Boston State and Masters' Plus credits from Boston College. Recently, she completed a long-term goal by receiving her Real Estate Salesperson's license.

In her "spare" time Ms. McCabe is politically active and has been A Campaign Manager, organizing neighborhood groups to effect change in education.

"The love and example of my family has been the foundation of my commitment to youth. I have touched many students' lives at C.R.L.S. and they in turn have touched mine — all of us better people for having met."

Ms. Kathleen N. Walcott
Career Counselor

A graduate of Cambridge High and Latin School, Ms. Walcott returned in 1970 as an English teacher. Four years later, she received her Masters' degree in Counselling and joined the Guidance Department as a Counselor. She was appointed to the Career Resource Center in 1981. 1984 will be her fourteenth year in the Cambridge School System. She also worked for the government for the Internal Revenue Service and the Labor Statistics Department. Her diverse involvement with staff, students and community has included: Executive Board Member of the CTA, MTA Student Committee; MTA and NEA Delegate; former advisor of the Black Student Union for a ten year period; present coordinator of MASSPEP, a program which introduces youth to careers in engineering and science; workshop moderator for the Cambridge BiCentennial Commission; Vice President of the Cambridge Black Cultural and Historical Association; and, oral history presentor for Boston College's "Blacks in Boston".

Ms. Walcott received her B.S. from Northeastern University and Ed.M. from Suffolk University. Her spare time is spent antique hunting, refinishing furniture, caning chairs, and pursuing a doctorate at the University of Massachusetts, Amherst.

"All I am, I owe to my family, especially my mother and father."

Ms. Carole Gentile
Secretary
Career Resource Center

Ms. Gentile has been secretary at the Career Resource Center for five years. Prior to this position she was secretary in the Home Economics Department and the Achievement School. She is a graduate of this High School and is very glad to be a part of the Center. In addition to this, Ms. Gentile is the Local 195 Union Steward at the High School, a position which involves a great deal of time after school hours.

Her husband, John, is a graduate of the Rindge Technical High School. Her son John (Jackie) is a graduate of C.R.L.S., and daughter Debra (Debbie) is still attending C.R.L.S.

Individual students have discovered the "specialness" of the Center through their own personal contacts. The Class of 1984 is proud and grateful for the hands and hearts that have always been there to guide us on the road toward the future.

With appreciation and gratitude for a staff so devoted and caring, hard-working and encouraging, the Class of 1984 proudly dedicates this Year Book.

Ms. Audrey E. O'Neil
Business Teacher
and Job Placement

Ms. O'Neil taught business subjects at Cambridge High and Latin School until it was consolidated with Rindge.

Since September 1975, she has taught two or three business courses and worked in the Career Resource Center seeking full-time and part-time jobs for our graduate and undergraduate students.

She finds it a pleasure working with her three colleagues; Carol Gentile, Ginny McCabe, and Kathleen Walcott.

Before the Career Resource Center became what it is today, it was nothing more than a little closet. It was located on the top floor of the Latin building, quietly tucked away.

It was started nine years ago by Cambridge volunteers as a small reference library for college bound students. It was then called the College Information Center.

When a position opening became available for a permanent organizer, Ms. Ginny McCabe applied for the job and got it. She felt that there was a real need to also serve the non-college bound students as well. With this, they changed the name of the Center to the Career Resource Center.

The major goal of the Career Resource Center was to assist students in making good decisions about academics, career directions, and personal lifestyles.

The Center's growth required a more spacious location, and in 1980 it was moved to its present location. In its new location, the center provides a wider range of information.

It provides individual and group counseling, sponsors the College Fair and Career Speakers, directs student orientation at the Center, and provides computer training. The Center helps develop job shadowings for Juniors and Seniors, and offers vocational testing.

Ms. McCabe says that there are several things that make the Center unique: "We have tried very hard to provide an atmosphere for students that is open, warm, supportive, and conscious of students' needs. The Center is a special place where students feel welcome and where the staff cares about young people."

Ms. Walcott, the Career Counselor, goes on to say, "I love working with people, especially the young. That is the time they need the most help in their lives. Even though sometimes I feel discouraged and disillusioned, I never lose faith in them."

The major events of the year include the College Fair, Financial Aid Information Night for students and parents, the Success Information Network, and a Career Forum.

The Center serves roughly a hundred students a day, and double this number on days when the Center sponsors a Career Seminar Day.

Counselors and teachers from other school systems often visit the Career Resource Center to seek assistance in terms of developing centers of their own, or to monitor its programs and operation.

Both Ms. McCabe and Ms. Walcott have acted as consultants to both school and community organizations. It is interesting to note that many students outside of Cambridge Rindge and Latin School have been referred to the Center for personal and career counseling. Many of the Human Service Agencies within the city use the Center as a resource for their clients.

The student volunteers add a special dimension to the Career Resource Center. Their time, energy, and efforts are truly appreciated by the staff, and in turn students receive training and a more in-depth knowledge of the career world.

Is he for real?

We can all look back on our childhood and remember working on a puzzle and how the puzzle offered many things. Life here at C.R.L.S. has in many ways been like a jigsaw puzzle with the exception, that unlike the jigsaw puzzle of our childhood, this puzzle has no completed picture on the cover. When we entered C.R.L.S. four years ago, we had no clear picture of what our four years here would finally bring to us. We have developed this year's yearbook theme around this concept.

As we moved from our Freshman to our Senior year, the unique shapes and sizes of our individual puzzles began to fall into place. The miscellany of things that have made up our four years are our friends and acquaintances, participation in school sports, and other school activities.

Now, as we approach graduation, we can begin to see the completed picture. As we go forward in our lives, there will be other puzzles as well, but our years here at C.R.L.S. will help us to complete the many different puzzles that life will present to us.

Can you repeat the question?

Where am I?

I should've cut class.

Is this edible?

Hmm, what's her name?

Of course it's in my locker!

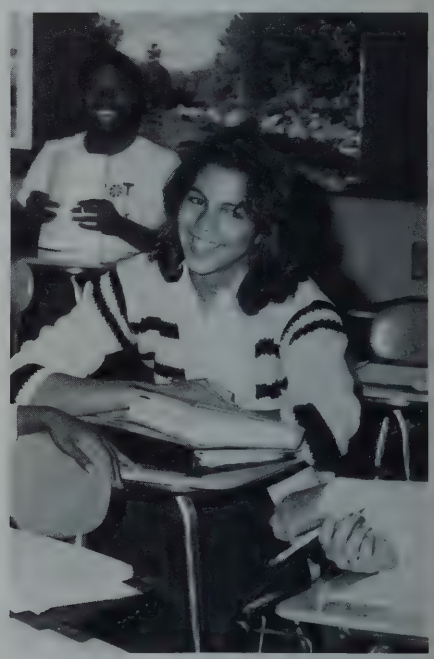

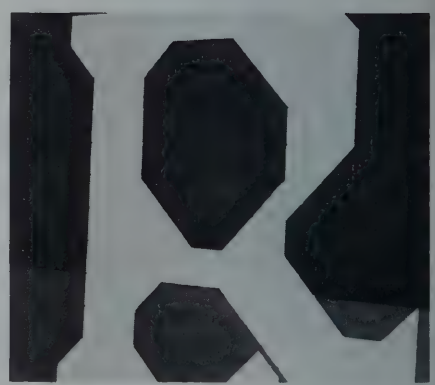

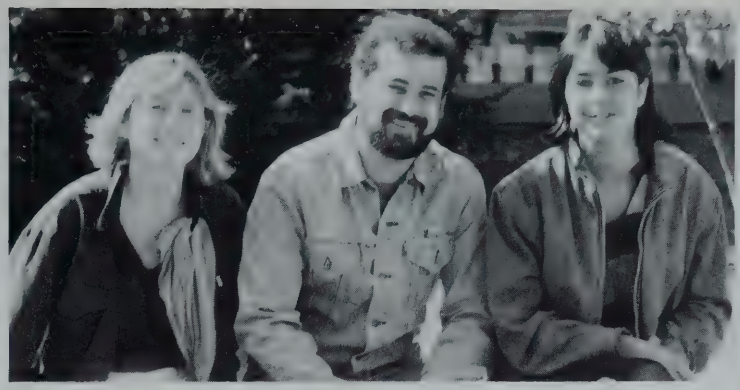

Education does not mean teaching people what they do not know . . . It is painful, continual, and difficult work to be done by kindness, by watching, by warning, by precept, and by praise, but above all — by example.

Locker #1 — "Hey!"
Locker #2 — "Yeah!"
Locker #1 — "What kinda kid did you get this year?"
Locker #2 — "Some wierdo in orange pajamas and bells on his ankles with a shaved head, except for a pigtail, who's always singing about some guy named Harry Kristen. He says he works out at the airport — a collector or something."
Locker #1 — "Yeah? Well, that's better than the kid I got stuck with. His name is Chemical Waste. He sings with a punk rock group called Thermal Nuclear War. He wears a dog collar and spiked belt. He has a safety pin in his cheek and fluorescent green hair. He keeps his sandwich spread in a "Crest" tube, he eats it with worm crackers. His girlfriend's name is Waste Dump, she's in his band too. They slam dance against me when the music comes on."
Locker #2 — "Wow! Did you hear about 499? He's the purple locker down the hall by the fire alarm."
Locker #1 — "No, What?"
Locker #2 — "He's got this Valley Girl who just moved here from California. She complained to her TIC that she didn't want 499 because he clashed with her lipstick."
Locker #1 — "Oh Wow! That is like totally awesome! I am shur! Like Totally barf me out! Gag me with a spoon! Like get in a car and drive it! Ya knew! She's like a total beastie! Like gross me out totally! I am like freaking out! Ya knew! I am shur! Like no way! Like totally!"
Locker #3 — "Hey! I'd be willing to trade with either of you! I've got this preppy kid named Jonathan Waldorf Houseworth-Fenton III. I could not belive it! DUCKS! He actually hung ducks on the inside of my door. Not little stickup ducks that peel right off; we are talking scrimshaw-city here!! He keeps a collection of L.L. Bean Catalogues for just in case his Blutcher Moccasins or his blue button down oxford shirt should wear out in the middle of class and he needs to order new ones. And get this, his friends call him "Bink". Can you believe it? Couldn't you see him years from now sitting behind the huge mahogany desk at his father's law firm and someone walking in saying. "Hey Bink, are you going down to Martha's Vineyard for the weekend? Makes your skin crawl, doesn't it?

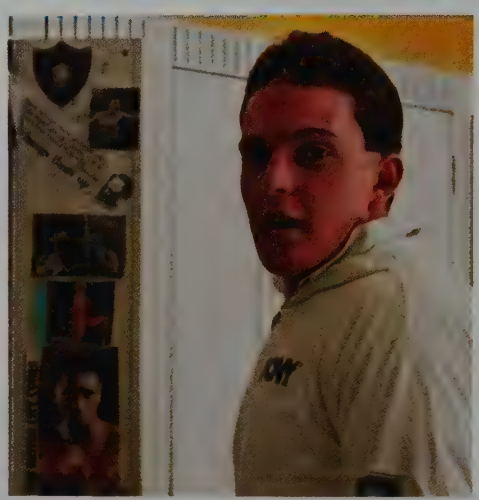

His L.L. Bean parka is covered with his Gordon Setter's fur. I'm allergic to dogs (a choo!). He's got little pink and green covers on his books. We won't even discuss the over-abundance of alligators and Whales all over the place."
Locker #4 — "Great! But have you guys seen the little wierdo I got stuck with? She's a health food freak. She's got granola coming out of her ears. Her name's Spring Wheatgerm. (I guess that is opposed to Winter Wheatgerm). Her goal in life is to open a health food ice cream parlor. She only wears natural fibers and she says "esoteric" a lot. She wants to marry her yogi when she graduates."
Locker #2 — "Hey! She'd be a great match for that Harry Kristen guy I'm stuck with."
Locker #1 — "I think I'm going to try to get transferred to another school. Preferably one that doesn't paint their lockers the color of jelly beans. I mean, can you believe these colors; blue, green, yellow, purple, red, orange. We look like "Chicklets" and "Lifesavers". It's degrading."
Locker #3 — "people don't realize how hard it is to be a locker."

Punk Day

October 4, 1983, saw the first official "Punk Day" at C.R.L.S. Black leather dog chains, spiked belts and bracelets, fluorescent hair, and ripped shirts were the garb of the day. Both students and teachers got into the act. The shock of seeing faculty members sporting pink fluorescent hair set yet another "first" in our trend-setting school.

Everyone had a great time and I wouldn't be the least surprised if "Punk Day" became a tradition at C.R.L.S.

AFTER HOURS

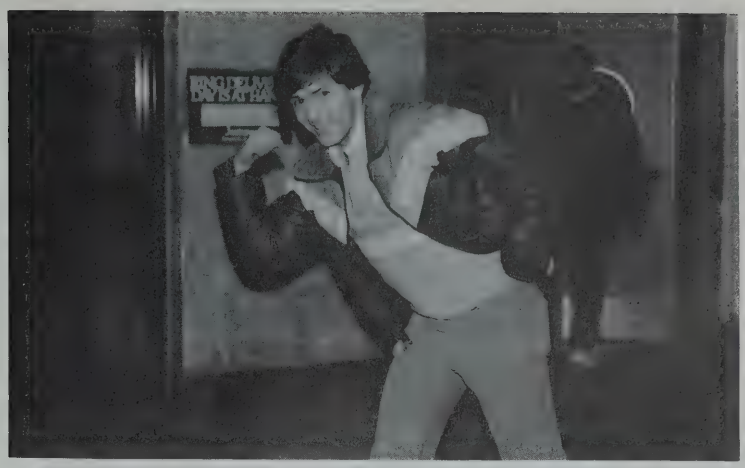

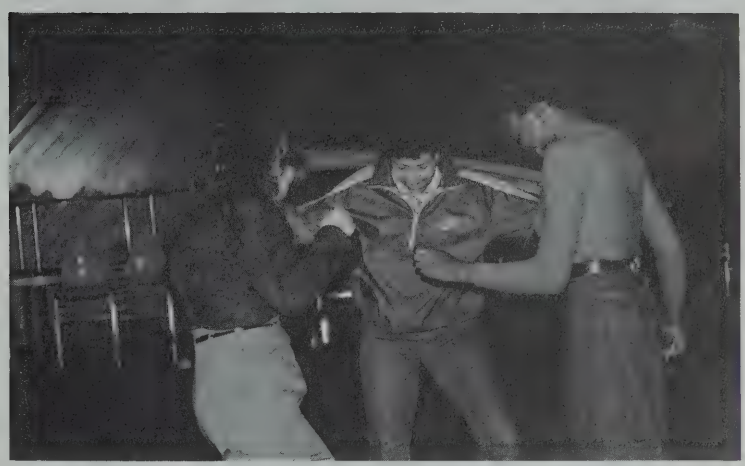

One of the K.B. clubs most profitable fund raisers of the year was the Valentine Day dance that they sponsored.

The club really pulled together to make this event a big success. The Valentine night atmosphere was filled with happiness, friendship, and balloons. The K.B. club is also proud of the fact that all money collected went to benefit the community. Special thanks goes to Ms. Chiurri, K.B.'s advisor.

The C.R.L.S. College Fair is a yearly event, held in early October. Representatives from colleges throughout the United States are invited to take part in this event.

The College Fair provides members of the senior class with an opportunity to meet various college representatives and explore the programs available to graduating seniors.

This year was no exception to previous years in the support and attendance at this event. The school cafeterias were filled to capacity with students, parents, and faculty members eager to explore the long process of the career formulation.

Filling out the many forms.

GIRLS VOLLEYBALL

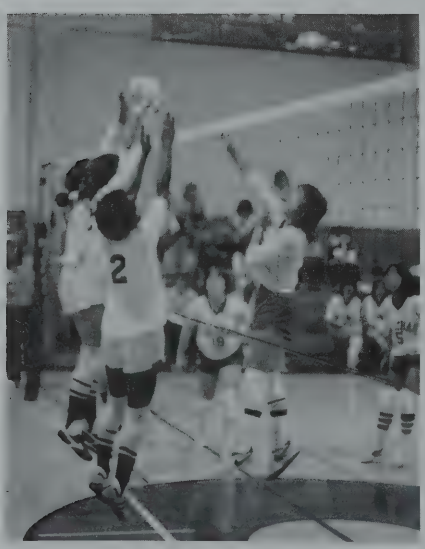

The Girls Volleyball Team had a very successful year, closing the season with a record of 12 wins and 6 losses. It was a disappointment that they did not qualify for the State Championship. The team worked hard and looks forward to the challenge of next year. To quote one of the team captains, "We have a good ball club, we have a young ball club, we have a good, young, ball club."

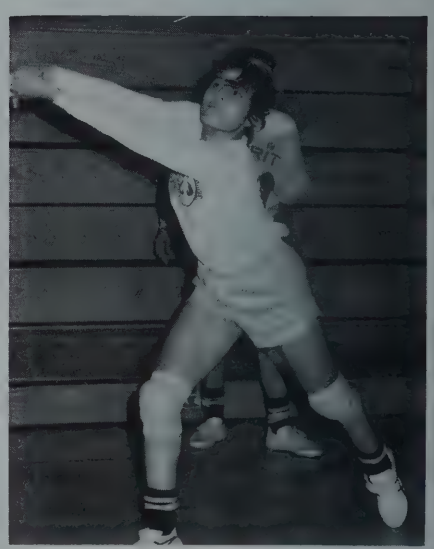

Team members Lisa Covalucci, Liz Raposa, and Dawn Marie Jones led the team throughout the season, and helped bolster team spirits on those occasions when victory did not come their way.

A special word of thanks to our coaches Miss Linda Town and Eileen Taxe for a very enjoyable and rewarding season.

FOOTBALL

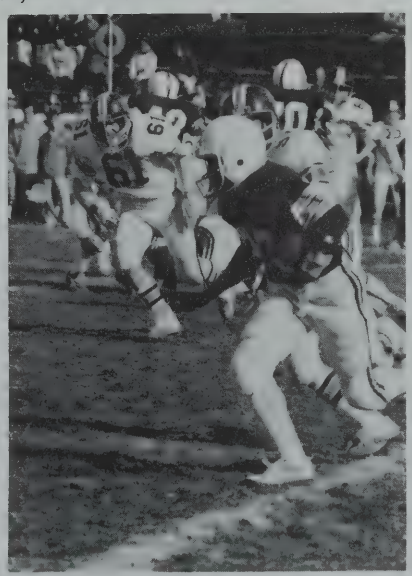

We're not just serious, we're delirious

I said do it my way!

Looking back upon the 1983 football season one could think of it as a failure. One could believe that the C.R.L.S. Warriors had a lack of talent, failing to realize that the football squad faces one of the toughest schedules in the state; and by confronting such powerhouses and superbowl contenders, they left behind an excessive amount of injuries, thereby forcing the younger and less experienced players to take the place of their fallen colleagues.

If one were to look at the statistics, one could be deceived. The numbers and points do not measure the efforts, desire or determination of the athletes. Even though consciously aware of their upsetting record, the team continually showed up for practice to prove their dedication and desire to win. They pulled together, working as one single unit, and ultimately became a truely cohesive team.

The 1983 season has closed, leaving the coaches, faculty, students and fans with a positive thought; that the 1984 team, with the more experienced athletes, will don the uniform and shoot for the dream of finally being a Superbowl contender.

Girl's Soccer . . . A Great Outlook

The Girl's Soccer team had an excellent record this year, considering that on the average eight of the starting players were Freshmen. The entire team was comprised of twenty Freshmen playing against Juniors and Seniors from other schools.

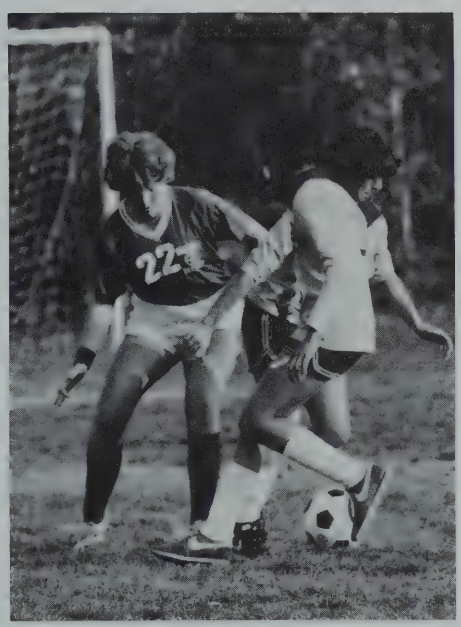

The team got it's early training in the Cambridge Youth Soccer League and most of the girls came from the same championship team.

Maria Ivarez, a junior and the fastest high-skilled playmaker, and Freshman Beth Torez, the most aggressive goal scorer, were voted as two All Stars by the Suburban Coaches.

The team had four wins and six losses, the best record the girl's team has had and that record keeps on improving every year. "With another year of experience and physical growth," says Coach John Silva, "the team will be able to play anyone in New England."

BOYS SOCCER

This year's soccer team proved to be very talented. The season was a tremendous success.

A tough example was set by last year's team which had qualified for the Eastern Mass. finals. If this year's team hoped to attain last year's success, then the team and Coach Inglis knew they would have their work cut out for them in order to win another suburban League Championship.

This year's team needed to recruit a new defense squad, which was formed by the addition of Jack Da Rosa, John Ramos, Daniel Larrent, Mario Pimental, Sil Foutes, an All Star goal keeper, and the sweeper, Luis Amaral.

At midfield, the team's strongest players were Ricardo Tastreba, Manny Botelho, John Chery, and Harold Henmo, an exchange student from Norway.

For the offense squad, Coach Inglis relied upon All-Star Alvaro Ilbanez, Numesio Braz, Kevin Mescoll, Frantz Prenelus, Evans Prenelus and Mike Kiflit.

The team closed the season with a record of 11-1-4 which included nine shut out games. Our thanks to Coach Inglis for a job well done.

GIRLS' INDOOR TRACK

Here I come to save the day ...

On the run

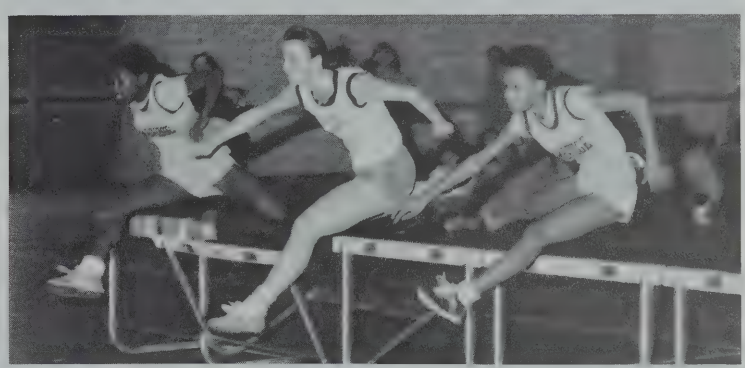

On the road again

The girls team with all its depth is still a very young team. There are only four seniors on the team, Dawn Jones, Kira Enge, Liz Pyle and Anya Stroud. The team had an impressive season with a record of 8-1. The team also placed 1st in the Class A State Relays. They set 3 new school records in the Mile Relay, the Distance Medley Relay 4 x 200 and in the Hurdle Relay set a new State record. The team placed fourth overall in the State Meet. They ended their season with a very strong finish. There have also been some great individual performances. Coach Joe Sousa and the team are very proud of this 83-84 indoor season.

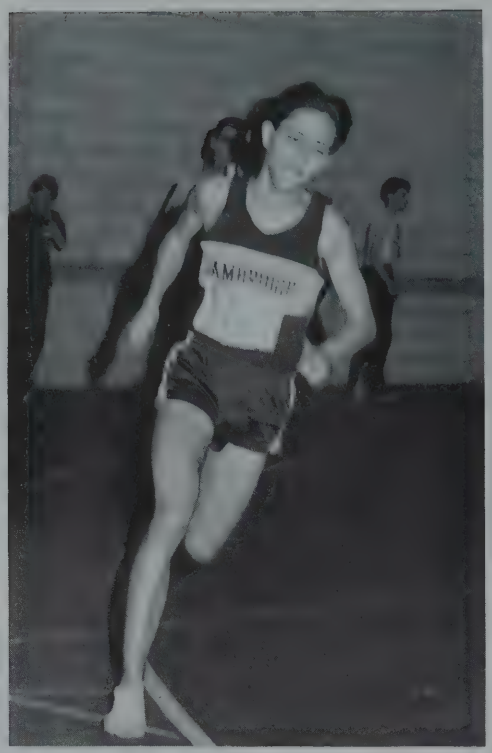

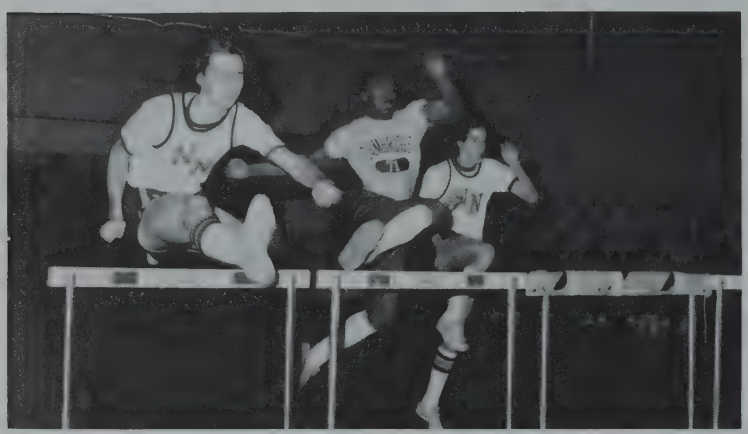

BOYS'

For the second year in a row the Warriors went undefeated. Strong senior performers included Tim Hairston, Darrel Lewis, Jerome Leonce, Lars Dietrich, Pat Sylvain and Reinardo Flores. The brightest star of all was senior Rich Kelley. The all American distance runner broke the Massachusetts State record in the mile and anchored Cambridge's New England record breaking two mile relay.

BOYS'

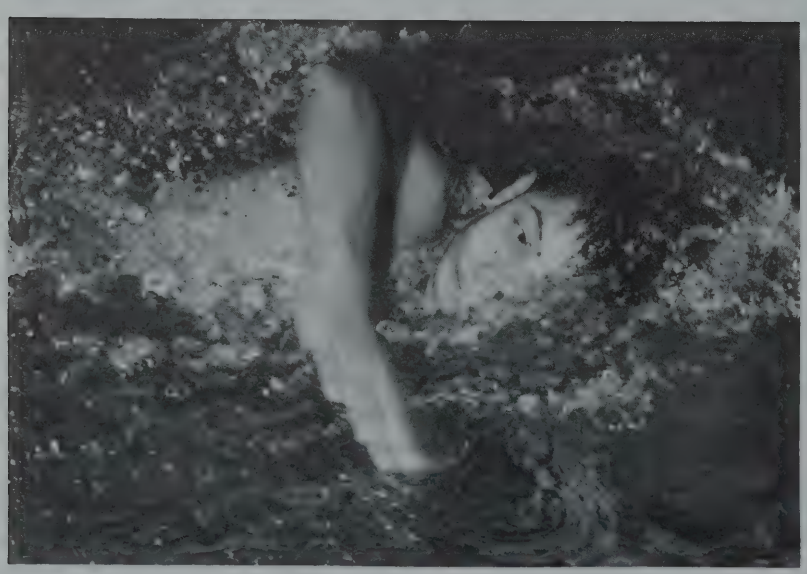

The boys swimming team finished a somewhat disappointing season with a 2-9 dual meet record and a sixth place finish in the Suburban League Championship. The outstanding performance were Co-captain John Tierney, Co-captain Marc Street, and sophomore diving sensation Yung Tang Chan. Marc Street specialized in the backstroke and freestyle and consistently won two events each meet. John Tierney could also be counted on for two victories in freestyle breaststroke, or individual medley. Both co-captains will be sorely missed next year.

GIRLS CROSS COUNTRY

The C.R.L.S. Girls Cross Country team placed third this year in the Suburban League Championships. They were also 12th in division one in the state.

The team is made up mostly of Freshmen and Sophomores and they show a lot of promise for the years to come.

Francis Jarvis and Aine Stroud were chosen as league All Stars this season.

And a one, and a two.

BOYS' CROSS

The Boys' Cross Country Team had its most successful season this year by finishing undefeated in the Suburban League. They were the Brown University and Suburban League Invitational Champions.

At the Division I Eastern Mass. Championships, the boys were upset by Chelmsford High . . . but in the Mass. State Finals, the Warriors rebounded and defeated every Eastern Mass. Team, and finished runner-up to the Central Mass. Champion Narragansett Regional.

COUNTRY

The team was led all season by All-Suburban League members Rienardo Flores, Richie Kelley, Lars Dietrich, Jerome Leonce, and Bob Slavin. At the State Finals, the fifth place finish of Jim Moses was instrumental in their final state placing.

HOCKEY

Our boys hockey team had a disappointing season ending with a record of 1-18. Although not a victorious season, we did play hard and had a lot of talent. Seniors on the team are, John Trainer, David Torres, James Graham, David Mitrano, Mark Benevento, Ian Wilkens, and Vinny Germano. We will be sorry to lose these players but we have a very young talented team. With all our young talent we look forward towards a successful season next year.

BASEBALL

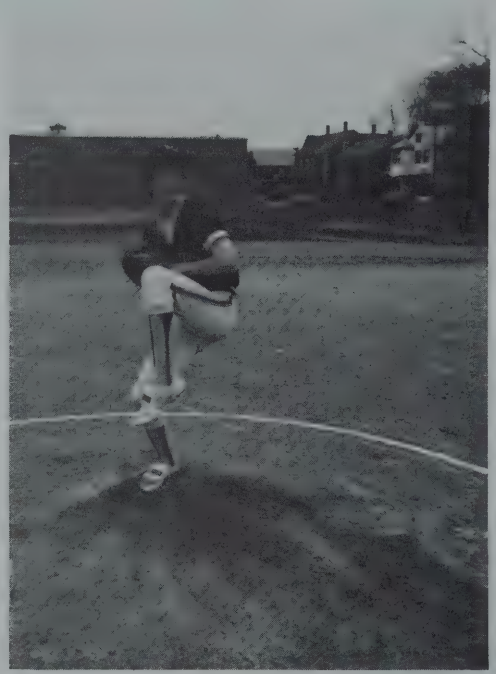

The Boy's Baseball Team had a record of 13-8, a record that put them in second place in the Suburban League. After beating North Andover in the first round of the Eastern Mass. Tournament by 11-0, the team lost to powerful Medford High (a 20-in all record) 5-3 in the quarter finals.

The team's coach Bill Fulgenite anticipates a bright outlook for the coming year with ten Seniors returning and some gifted underclassmen.

The team pitchers Jim Hoog and Chris Reynolds were among the best in Eastern Mass. last year.

Nelson Linares, one of the top infielders in the league, and Carlos Santiago, Mark Benevento, Gary Barker, Andy Ayres, Tom Hill, and Steve Reiner comprise what could be one of the best teams ever at CRLS.

TURKEY GAME RALLY

The Football and all Fall Sports Rally before the big game on Thanksgiving was a giant success!! All the fall sports teams were recognized for their outstanding achievements, particularly girls' and boys' track, girls' swimming girls' volleyball, and the boys' soccer — who were Suburban League champions. Following the team introductions, everyone's attention focused on the football team and the cheerleaders. The girls gave a tremendous performance of both old and new cheers. Their outstanding human pyramid is always a favorite.

Coach George Greenidge introduced the team to a very excited crowd, who urged the team on to victory in their Thanksgiving Day game against Don Bosco.

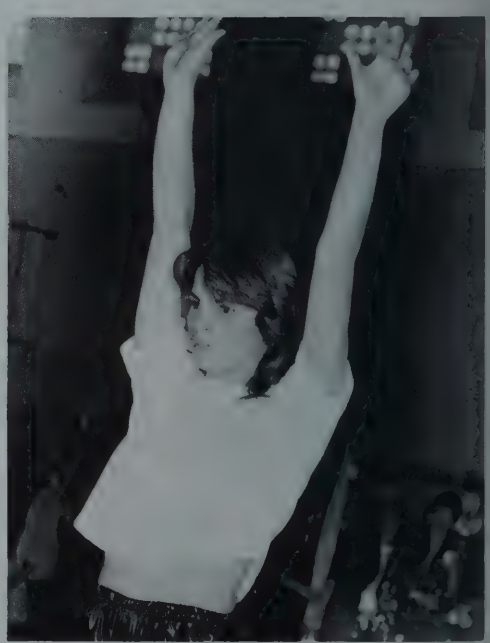

The Rally closed with a display of Break Dancing by a group of very agile students who were accompanied by the C.R.L.S. band.

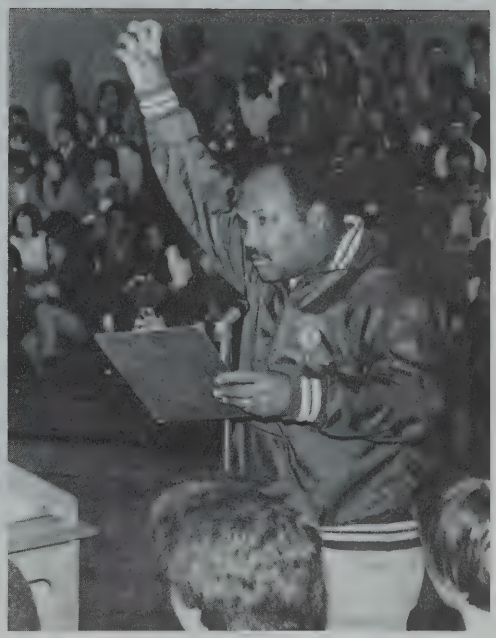

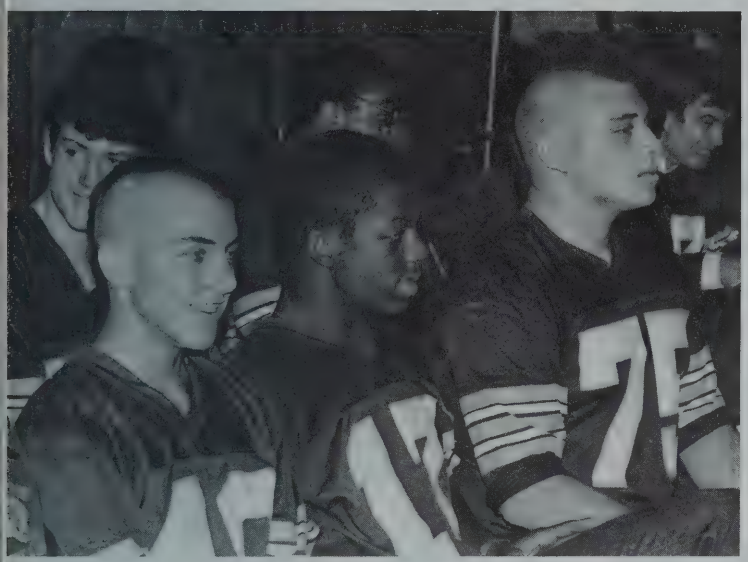

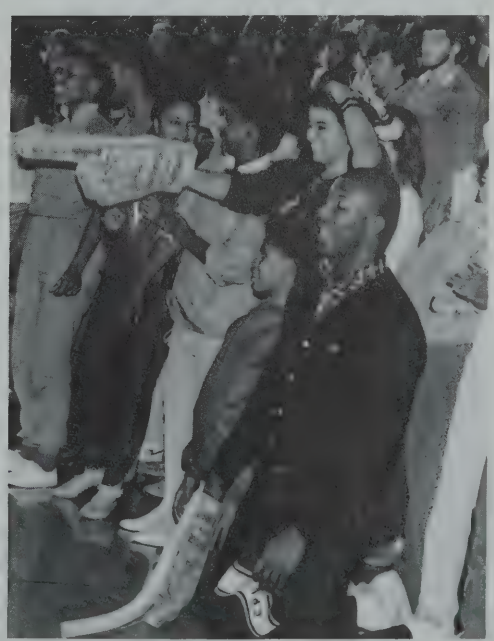

TURKEY

The 1983 Turkey Day Game was an exciting event for all who attended.

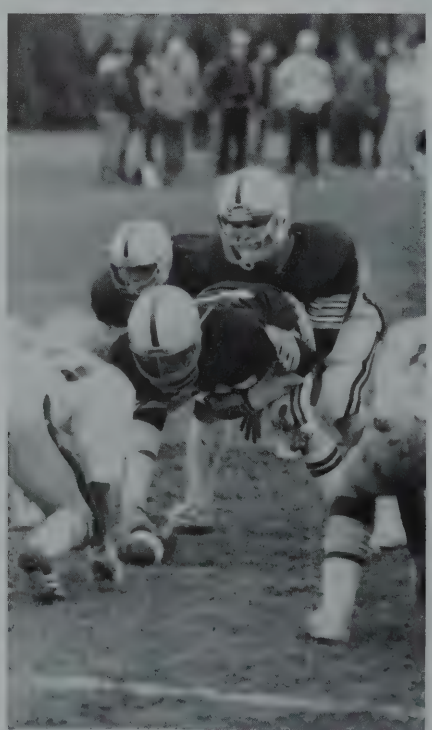

Despite the Warrior's tremendous effort to break their losing record, the strength of the Don Bosco team was overwhelming, and the Warriors were defeated.

Although C.R.L.S. was not victorious, it seems certain that the seniors on the team will have many happy memories of their days on the football team.

GAME

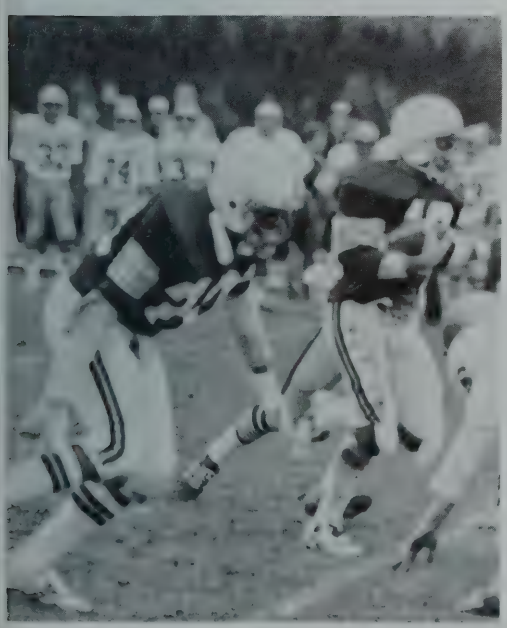

One of the highlights of the day was the C.R.L.S. band's performance at half-time. Paired with the enthusiasm of the cheerleaders, the band's playing captured the mood of the crowd and the team, leaving everyone in good spirits.

Project Adventure is a nationally accepted public school version of the Outward Bound Program. UMPA is Cambridge's Urban Modification of Project Adventure.

The High School activities included in UMPA are new games, group initiative problems and a ropes course. The program also offers an extensive variety of introductory and advanced opportunities.

UMPA has been used as a demonstation project for teachers in other cities interested in developing similar alternative programs in Physical Education.

Some members of the Class of 1984 saw this program at its inception during the spring of their sophomore year. The arrival of the course was marked by the construction of an extensive ropes course in the newly built field house.

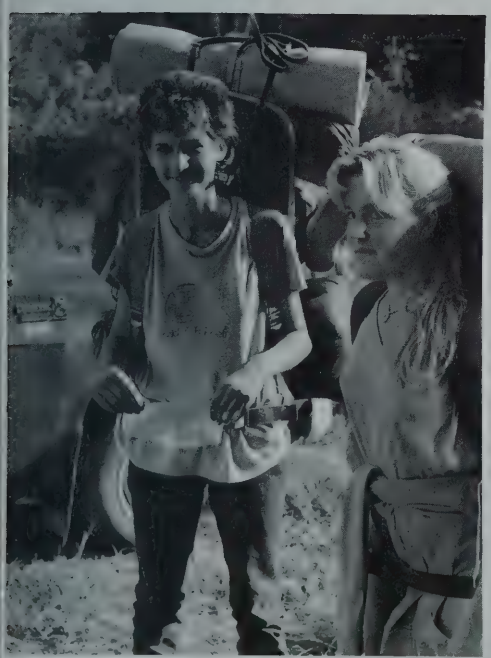

The Outdoor Education Courses have involved trips to the mountains of New Hampshire and Vermont where the CRLS students worked with students from Lyndon State College in activities such as rock climbing, backpacking, orienteering, skiing, biking, and canoeing.

In its pioneering of UMPA here at CRLS, the Class of 1984 has helped to launch a program that we hope will be enjoyed by the students at CRLS for many years to come.

CANTABRIDGIA RESTAURANT

It smells like . . .

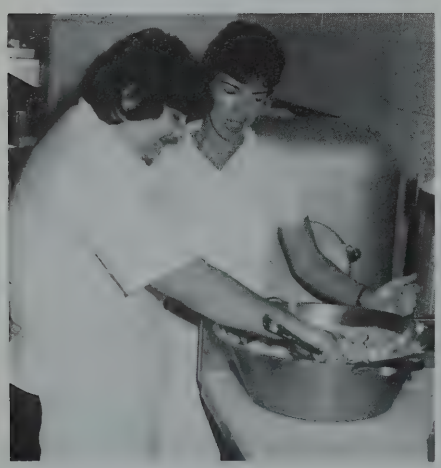

The Cantabrigia Restaurant is a chance for students, staff, and the general public to treat themselves to a multisensual experience of ethnic and gourmet foods. Now in its fourth year and the showplace for Occupational Education's Culinary Arts Dept., the restaurant is open for lunch 3 days per week. On those days, approximately 75 people taste and smell the hard work of the programs' aspiring chefs. Under the direction of Chef Bill Calore and his capable technical assistants, Elizabeth Kjolseth, John Greco, Yvonne Cherish, and Ann Petrillo, students create all the food "from scratch" using tested recipes.

In the first half of the year lunch is served buffet style, and the second half of the year students wait on tables so that they can learn both ends of the business. The restaurant features both continental and domestic cooking and tries to serve at least one vegetarian dish. The restaurant's business has grown annually.

Although the restaurant is not able to accomodate large numbers of people, it is elegant down to the fresh flowers on the tables and has a pleasant ambiance.

It is a bit early to know if any of the students will become great chefs, or go on to build a chain of posh restaurants . . . There is always that possibility, given the experience gained in the program.

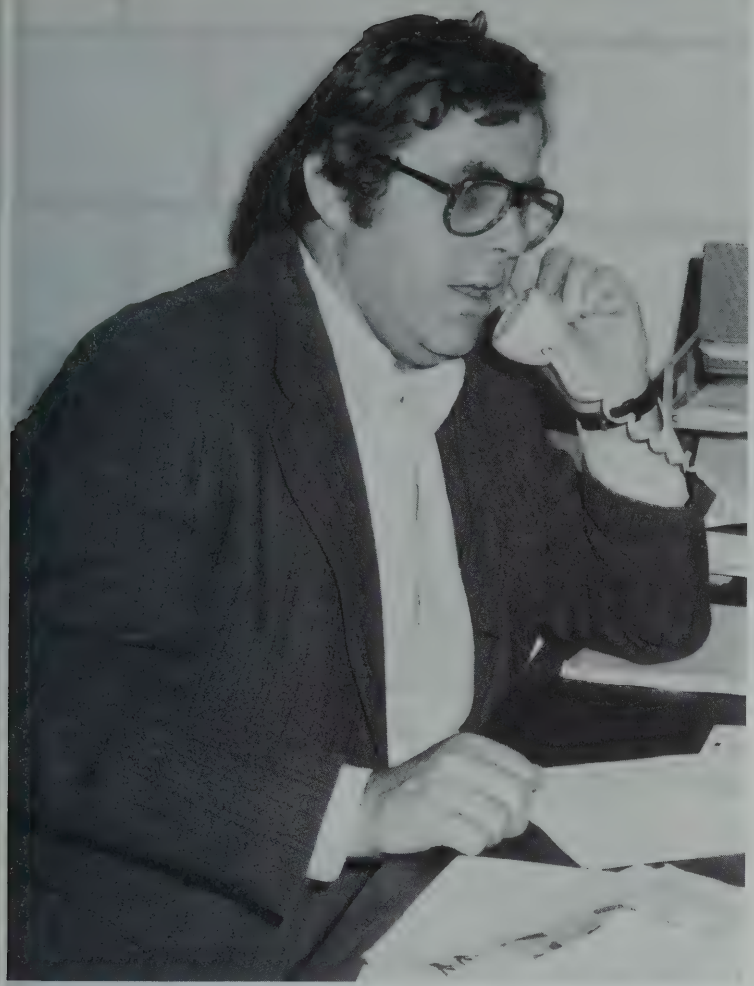

C.B.L.P.

The Community Based Learning Program originated out of a federally sponsored program, Community Interaction Through Youth (CITY), in 1971. CITY was developed jointly by Brookline and Cambridge Public Schools. The goal was to create a "high school without walls" similar to programs in Chicago and Philadelphia. When federal funds ran out, each system continued to run their own program independently. Cambridge changed the program name to Community Based Learning Program (CBLP).

CBLP is a community centered program of the Cambridge Rindge and Latin School. Similar to flexible campus programs in other secondary schools, CBLP is the umbrella for a host of off-campus, unpaid learning experiences for CRLS students. Our major focus rests with career internships, college courses, and cooperative arrangements with educational and business organizations. We develop programs in response both to students expressed needs and community input. CBLP is open to all students in the high school regardless of house or grade level.

Currently, there are three staff members in CBLP. They are Adrienne Durst, Bob Richards, and Linore Sizemore. The CBLP office is located in the Arts Building on the first floor, in room A107.

PRE-VOCATIONAL TRAINING PROGRAM

The Pre-Vocational Training Program is located in R.136 at Cambridge Rindge and Latin School. It is a self contained classroom for students with special needs. The students in the pre-vocational program represent a wide range of abilities needs and interests.

These students actively participate in many classes including Home Economics, Music, Gym, Art and other courses of individual choice.

In addition to recreation and work study, the students in Pre-Voc also participate in special activities within the high school.

The students are seen throughout C.R.L.S. in various work study positions. Upon graduation, some students will either continue their education or enter the job market.

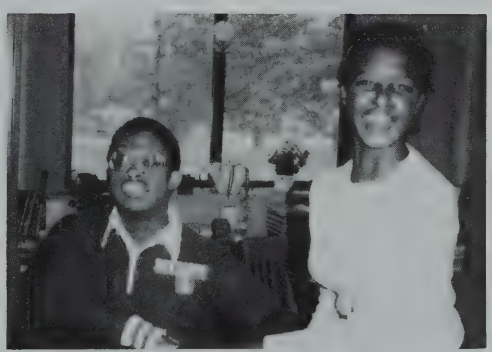

This years graduating class will include: John Carrasquillo, Nilda Espata, Edjar Maciel, Sarah Norlton, Kay Young.

WRLS

Cambridge Rindge and Latin School has a radio station. WRLS began Phase I, a closed circuit broadcast operation, in May 1983. The initial broadcast and opening of the facility attracted attention from other high schools across the state. Much credit is to given to the members of WRLS pioneering class.

During the Phase II implementation of the station, a "carrier current" transmitter will be installed. This means that we will have an electrical signal in all electrical outlets in the high school complex; we will also broadcast up to a one mile radius of the high school. Once this phase is completed we will occupy frequency 5.5 on the A.M. dial. This phase will be completed during the 1983-84 school year.

At this time, C.R.L.S. is one of five high schools in the state which operate radio stations. However, the school is one of two that have integrated radio into the high school curriculum as a course which is taken for credit. "Radio Broadcast Journalism" I and II (E-890 and E-891) are offered as two half-year English electives. The first semester is a pre-requisite for the second.

The two semester courses are structured to provide students with technical, "hands-on" experience using professional broadcast equipment. Students also learn the traditional formats of journalism and journalistic writing. More significantly, students must seriously engage in the business operations of WRLS. Following the successful completion of both semesters of Broadcast Journalism, students receive a "Third Class Operator's License" from the Federal Communications Commission.

The course meets only during the fifth period, and students who are enrolled in the course design their own programs using a variety of musical and journalistic formats. The broadcasts are delivered "live" from the studio which is located in Room 224. In addition, teachers and departments can submit programs to WRLS for broadcast. Optimally, WRLS will make education available to wider audience as a result of the variety of programs aired on the station. After, phase II has been fully implemented, broadcast time will be allocated to the Cambridge community.

WRLS would not be a reality today if it were not for the support that I received when I began to explore the feasibility of a radio station at the high school. To Superintendent William Lannon, to Principal Edward Sarasin, to Assistant Principal Diane Tabor, and to the English Department Coordinator, Carolyn Wyatt, I extend my appreciation for allowing me the flexibility and time to develop WRLS. I hope that WRLS will serve as viable instrument that will enhance the educational environment of the Cambridge Rindge and Latin School, and will further serve as an influence in the Cambridge Community.

IN MEMORIAM

JOHN J. CARCHIA
1914 - 1984

John Carchia will be long remembered by all at Cambridge Rindge Latin School as a gentle person who always had time to listen. His affiliation to the Cambridge School system was strong, beginning as a student at Cambridge High and Latin where he played a respectable game of football.

He took pride in his long tenure as a member of the Rindge Technical School faculty. His patience with his students, his willingness to help others contributed to his success as a teacher. Many of his students who were inspired by him are now entrepreneurs.

He was soft spoken yet very determined and enjoyed the challenge of finishing every project.

He was a tireless worker in the Driver Education Department. He would demonstrate first then expect the student to follow. He demanded the best because he gave his utmost. He seemed to encompass so many of the traits that graduates of Cambridge Rindge Latin School need to attain to succeed in life. Their path to success could be modelled from his life's example.

His sudden passing in February 1984 saddened all who were privileged to have known him. His presence will be missed.

YEARBOOK STAFF

Production of the Class of 1984 yearbook began as a pilot project. The production staff signed up for a newly created series of courses which were sponsored in conjunction with the Art Department. They were Graphics Art-Design, and Photography.

The production staff began work in the second semester of their Junior year. The program was launched when the entire production staff attended a sales seminar presented by the Hunter Printing Co. at Wellesley College.

With the opening of the school year — it was full steam ahead with a very tough deadline schedule to meet in order that the Yearbook would be printed on time, and be available for the class graduation.

Considering that the team members took the Graphics Design and Photography course(s) and produced, what we feel is a very creative Yearbook, is a major achievement for them.

We received help this year from the Math Department in the form of a Computer Program used to compile the names of Yearbook sponsors and the Yearbook accounts. The program was written by Kathy Rehfield and by a Yearbook staff member.

Proofreading services were furnished by Elizabeth Grady of the Social Studies Dept., and thanks to her expertise we saved ourselves many hours of retyping.

We owe a special vote of thanks to Phyllis Corbin and Al Ferreira for without their creative talents and dedication we would have been unable to complete our printing schedule.

Working with this year's staff was a pleasure, for they exemplified all that is good about our students here at C.R.L.S. I would particularly like to congratulate the layout team as one group that has performed tirelessly, day after day, week after week. They worked first on design, then on the actual layouts, and sized hundreds of pictures. Thanks to their patience and perseverance we never missed a deadline. CAUCASIAN

This year's smash hit fall-winter production was Bertolt Brecht's Caucasian Chalk Circle. Directed by the Drama's Department's teacher Gerry Speca. The story is considered a landmark of the Twentieth Century theatre.

The story revolves around a bloody Feudal land dispute, a story of Grusha the kitchen maid and of her struggle to keep the child she had been caring for in the belief that the child's mother was dead.

Grusha's story is paralled by that of Azdak, a drunken town recorder who by a strange twist of fate, was appointed judge. At the end of the play, when the natural mother turns up to claim the child, it is Azdak who must decide which woman has the right to keep the child.

MUSICAL.

The CRLS Orchestra had several performances this year, beginning with the Christmas Concert in which they played a suite of Baroque Music, the 1st Movement from Mozart's Jupiter Symphony, and the theme from Romeo and Juliet.

They performed a concert of Chamber Music at the Harvard Epworth Church. They featured groups of between two to fifteen playing different types of music. This was something new this year.

The full Orchestra performed at the Spring Concert. They usually featured Seniors in solo performances, but there were no Seniors this year.

The Orchestra is made up mostly of Freshmen and Sophomores and it is predicted that in two years they will be one of the best in the state.

SECURITY

The members of the security staff, some of who are pictured here represent that section of our school community who have helped to provide a safe and well ordered environment which in turn has helped to make our lives here at C.R.L.S. all the more enjoyable.

CUSTODIAL STAFF

The following pages are dedicated to those members of our community here at C.R.L.S. who have helped to create a safe, clean, and well ordered environment that has been a major contributing factor to our school life during the past four years.

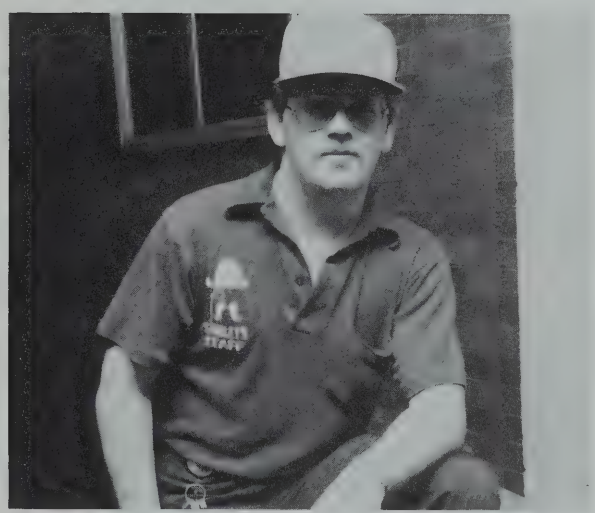

To our custodians, cafeteria workers, and security personnel we say thank you. To those members of the secretarial staff who in a world of computers have added that extra personal touch . . . an extra thank you.

EPILOGUE

WILL

In the Fall of 1980, the process of combining the Rindge Technical School and the Cambridge High and Latin School was completed. The Class of 1984 entering as Freshmen became the first class to occupy the new facility. Some of us were bold and ready for action in this strange new place. Others were a little nervous and uncertain as to what the next four years here in the new campus would bring. Each of us had prepared ourselves for High School in our own unique way, and we had all set ourselves a goal, whether we realized it or not. These goals were as complex and varied as our student body.

The combination of student body, C.R.L.S. faculty, and the new campus combined to help us strive for all our social, academic, and athletic goals. Chances to travel, ski, perform in the arts, study, and much more were opened up to us. Looking back it is sad to think that some of our classmates did not take full advantage of the opportunities that had been offered, opportunities the like of which may not be open to us again.

Regardless of goals reached or missed; time spent wisely or unwisely; whether a person fell by the wayside or stayed the course to reach graduation we all gained some benefit from our having attended C.R.L.S.. We have made many friends, and formed lasting ties with many of our teachers. We have learned much about ourselves, about others, and about life. We have learned to give as well as accept; to gain as well as to lose; to change our ways when we have to; and to live with things that we cannot change. All to soon our days at C.R.L.S. will be only memories, but what we have learned here will be more than memories because it will serve as a solid foundation for our future.

CLASS WILL

We, the class of 1984, being of sound mind, do hereby bequeath the following to those we leave to toil behind:

All TIC's. Our detention slips and locker debris.

Ms. Betsy Grady. all rights to the word "hilarious".

Mr. Don Murphy a hearing aid.

Ms. Jonell Johnson. a fashion magazine.

Mr. McGinness a new joke book.

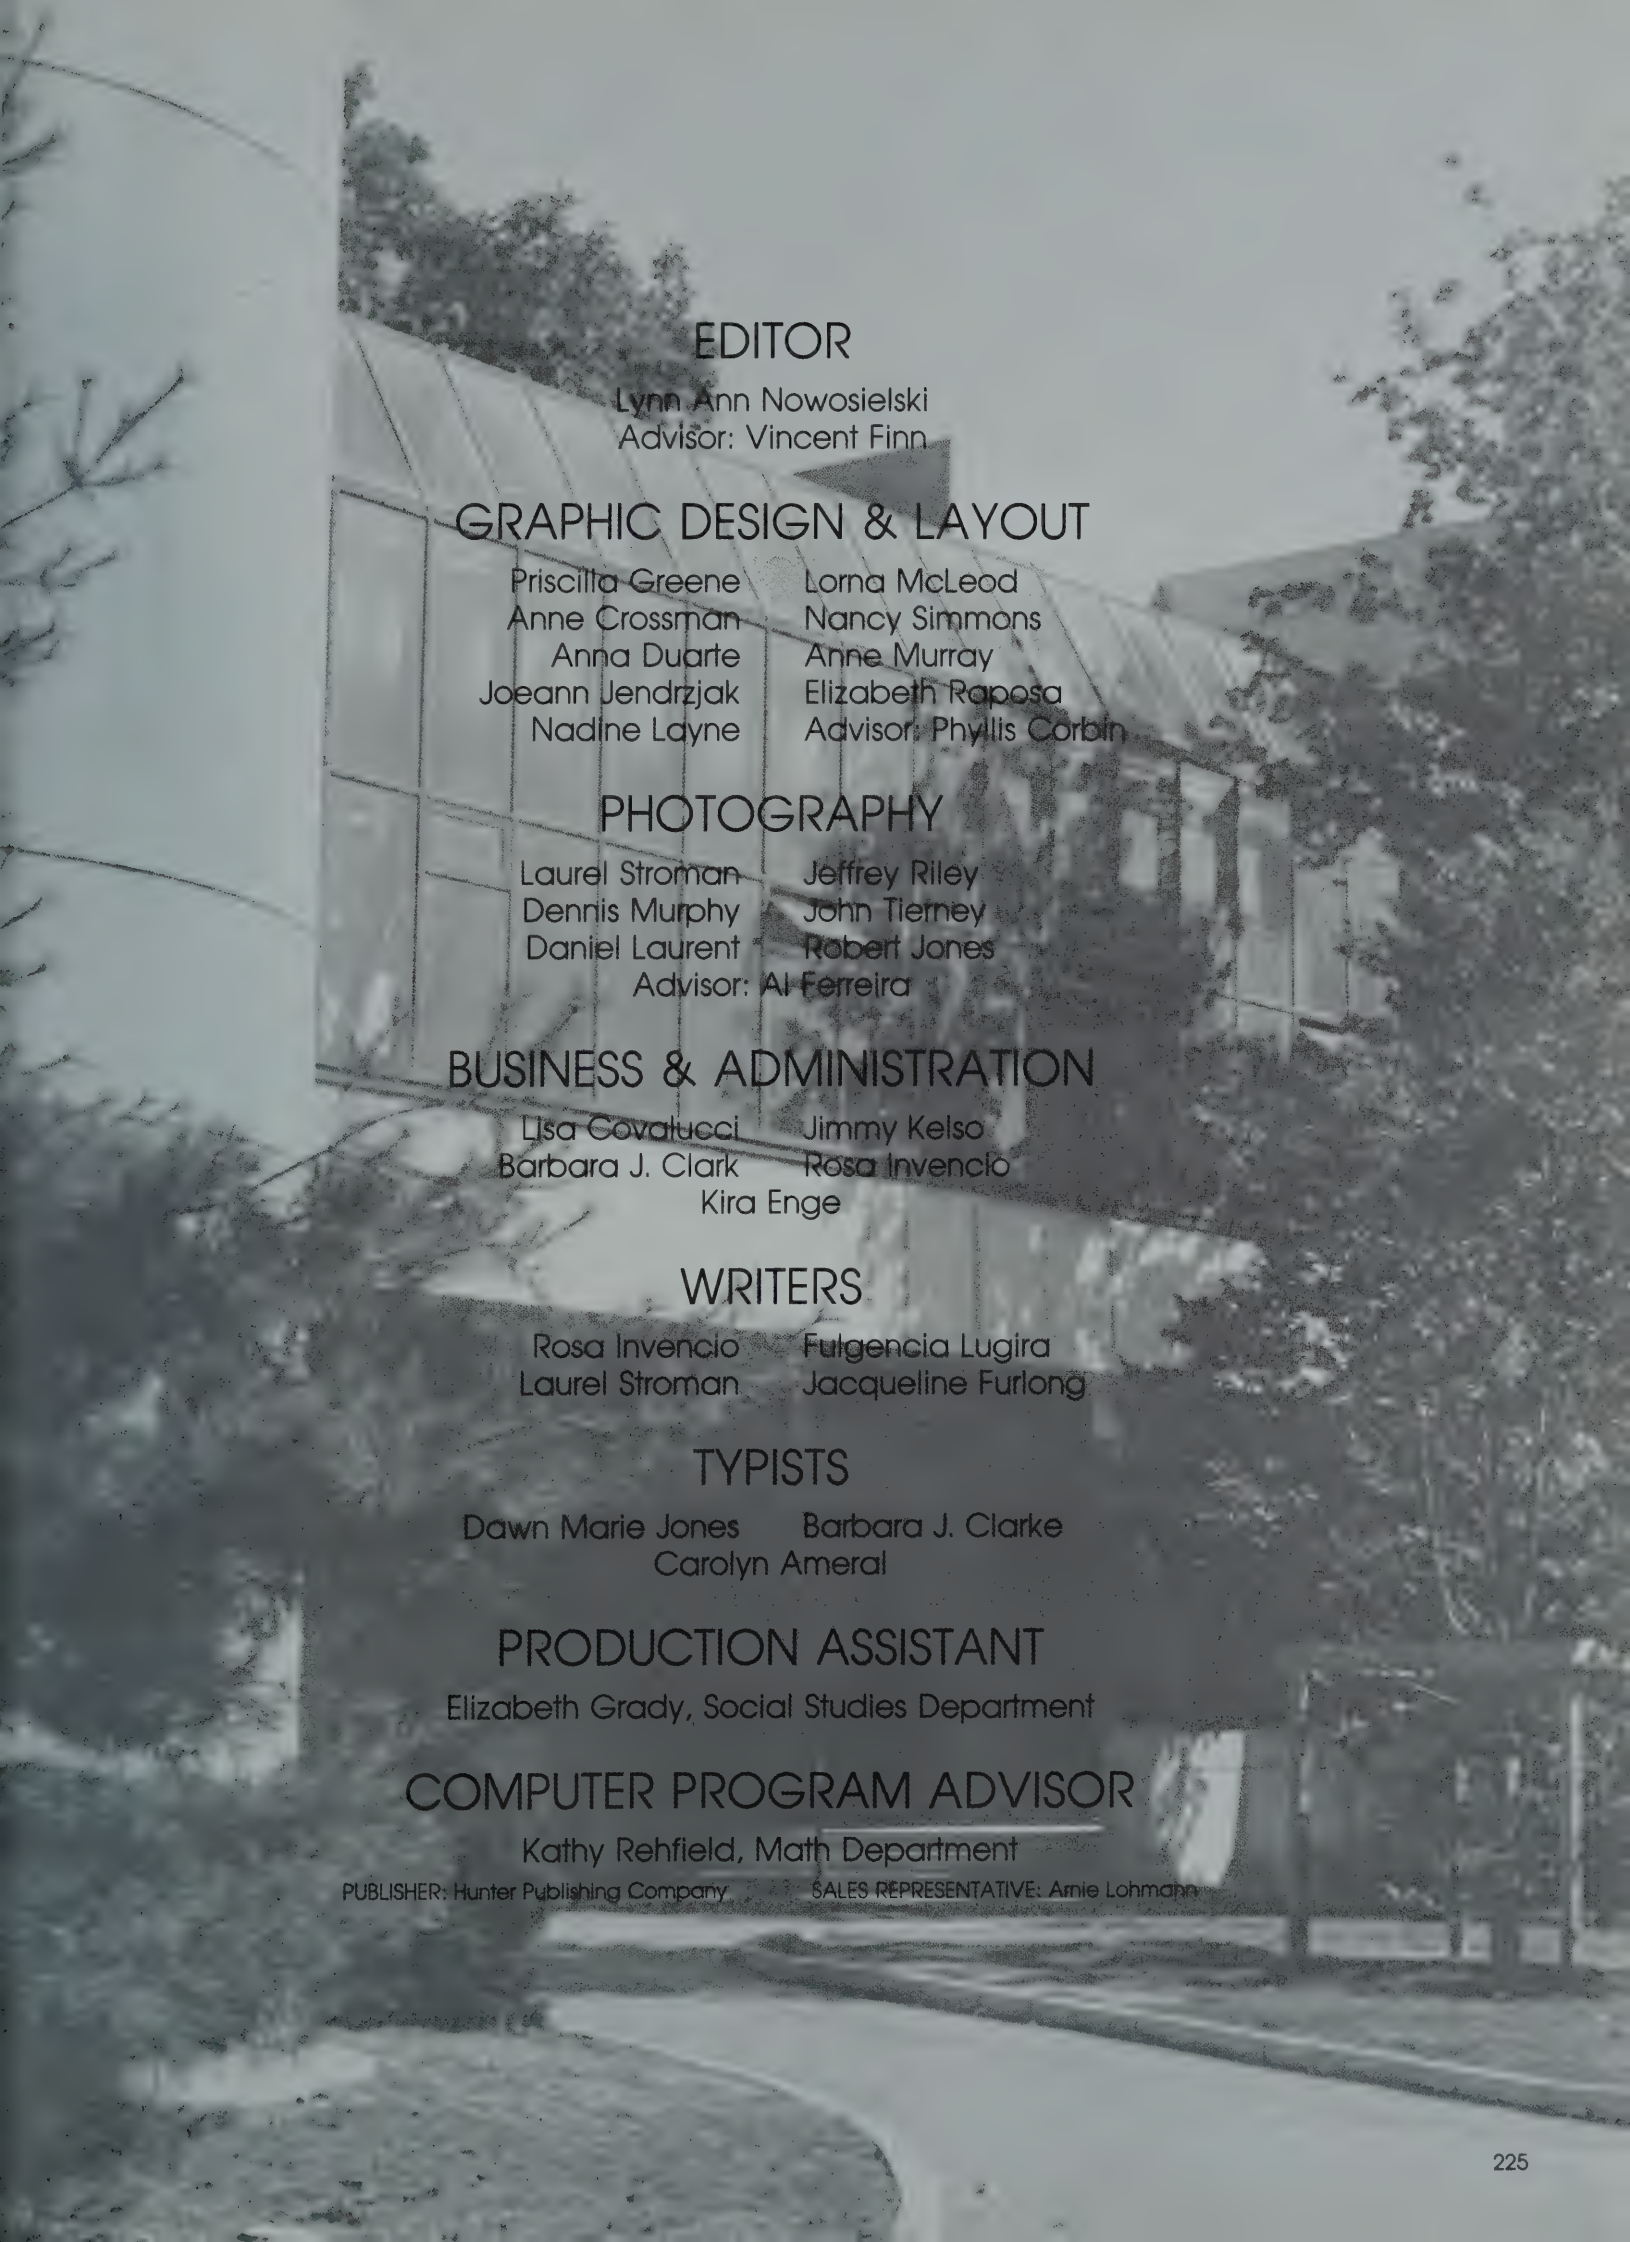

Mr. Krasnow. five free lessons at Arthur Murray's to learn the smurf.

Mr. Saheed a pumpkin and a squash.

All teachers. just a bit of comic relief to help them get by.

Mr. Finn. a week's vacation in his wine cellar.

To the Class of 1985 our best wishes and hope for the future!!

Like the skeletons in our closets,
The shadows on these walls,
Time to leave this place,
Time to leave these halls.
Separate roads we will take now,
Different paths we will choose,
All that we will gain,
And all we fear we'll lose.
Time is our guide,
The future is our key,
The people that we were,
With the hope of what we'll be.

Things that we'll cherish,
Things we'll never regret,
When we should've smiled,
Not wanting to forget.
As we look back on the people,
Faces we leave behind,
Taking a long journey,
New lives we will find.
We leave to you the memories,
And maybe something more,
Good-bye CRLS,
The CLASS OF 1984.

CAMBRIDGE

The undiscovered city across the river

One of the most popular student hangouts.

Student life

Cambridge is known for its student life, and there's no doubt that the whirlwind of activity surrounding the city's schools keeps the city young. A lot of visitors report that when they go to Cambridge they just like to hang around "where the students are" to get a feel for the excitement of youth, when everything is possible. If you want to get a sense of this dynamic scene yourself, we suggest a visit to the following hangouts.

★★★Montrose Market/ Mass. House of Pizza/Angelo's Pizza. These three institutions, which surround the Cambridge Rindge and Latin School, hop with activity during the high school's lunch hour. According to the clerk at the Montrose Market, visitors are guaranteed plenty of student activity at these spots. "The students aren't allowed to go more than a block away during lunch hour, so they have to go to these three places." he explains. "Sage's won't let them in, and neither will the Broadway Super Market, so they don't have much choice."

The most popular student activities during lunch hour include buying a Coke and a slice of pizza, snacking on a bag of Doritos, or simply relaxing with a Mountain Dew. A word to the wise: the crowd at the Montrose gets so heavy during lunch hour that the store has a doorman who only lets a few students in at a time, a la Studio 54. So look sharp if you want to squeeze into this student hot spot.

Our rating system:
★★★Excellent — don't miss it!
★★Good — worth a detour
★Interesting — passable if visiting means waiting for the "walk" signal.

Congratulations to the Class of 1984.
